Robert L. Ehrlich announced his endorsement of Delegate J.B. Jennings's candidacy for State Senate in Maryland's Legislative District 7 today. J.B. Jennings will be running on the Ehrlich slate in District 7, alongside incumbent Delegates Rick Impallaria and Pat McDonough, who are running for re-election.

The seat is being vacated by Senator Andy Harris' run for Congress in the 1st District. Former Governor Ehrlich, the House of Delegate incumbents in District 7, and district voters from Baltimore and Harford Counties are putting their support behind Delegate Jennings, confident that he will continue the efforts initiated by Senator Harris. "It's not easy to fill Andy Harris' shoes," said J.B. Jennings, "but Republican leaders and voters have urged me to run because they believe that I am the right candidate to correct the failed policies and legislation enacted by the O'Malley administration."

Despite entering office with a 1.4 billion dollar surplus, Governor Martin O'Malley led the State of Maryland into a free-fall plunge that resulted in a 2 billion dollar deficit. In his endorsement, former Governor Bob Ehrlich said that J.B. Jennings "is uniquely qualified to help me lower taxes, create jobs, and reign in government spending in Annapolis. He helped me defeat $7.5 billion in tax increases during my first term as governor and I need his leadership to prevent another massive tax increase next year."

As a State Delegate, J.B. Jennings demonstrated his commitment to his constituency by maintaining a 100% attendance record, never missing a vote while in office. He has continuously supported and sponsored legislation to strengthen Maryland's economy, and staunchly opposed tax hikes. In the most recent General Assembly session, J.B. Jennings proposed legislation to revert Maryland's Sales Tax from 6% to 5%.

J.B. Jennings stands behind his strong record of constituent service, his votes that reflect the concerns and positions of voters in the district, and his ability to be a voice for District 7. As Governor Ehrlich's endorsement states, "I am pleased to endorse J.B. Jennings for Maryland State Senate. A vote for J.B. is a vote for proven leadership."
